Dear Sombat Chuenchooklin,

Subject: Notification of Acceptance for the 16th GMSARN International Conference 2021

It is my pleasure to inform you that the full paper reference no. GMSARN-21C-Env-06 entitled "Characteristics of Meteorological Drought Indices under Climate Change Circumstances" has been now accepted for oral presentation by the GMSARN 2021 conference organizing committee.

On behalf of GMSARN organizing committee, I am pleased to invite you to participate in the 16th GMSARN International Conference 2021 on "Smart Energy, Environment and Sustainable Development in GMS: Post Pandemic Challenges & Opportunity", during 16-17 December 2021 at Holiday Inn & Suites Rayong City Centre, Rayong, Thailand.

The conference aims to bring together members from the GMSARN network as well as GMS practitioners on the field, education, industry, private sector and governments, to share the research findings, innovative practices, experience and lessons learned in various sustainable development issues in GMS, especially in areas of climate change, energy, environment, natural resource management, and development planning.

Conference information is made available online at www.gmsarn.com/conference2021. Any requires related to the conference may please be directed to the GMSARN Secretariat at (+66)-2-524-6537 (Ms. Watcharathorn) or by email: gmsarn@ait.ac.th.

Best regards,

Prof. Dr. Weerakorn Ongsakul, CFA, ERP
GMSARN Secretary General and Conference Executive Director
